1. Thank you for your handwritten note of 16 November. I am responding in typed form because my scrawl is too hard to read unless you have passed one of NSA's senior cryptanalytical courses; and my hand gets tired.

2. Your diagrams, in my view, are not correct. My major objections include that they:

- o Omit most of the DCI mechanisms for intelligence priorities (e.g., Foreign Intelligence Priorities Committee).
- o Misrepresent role of the National Foreign Intelligence Strategy (NFIS), and omit all aspects of functional requirements and priorities.
- o Misrepresent the role of the Intelligence Producers Council.
- o Omit any reference to intelligence production requirements and priorities.

3. I think you would find it in your interest to have [REDACTED] come over and chat with you soon.

4. I look forward to hearing your concrete, constructive proposal on 30 November.

5. And if I may do more to help you, please call or write.
